

The Language of Diplomacy

Examples of diplomatic language:

Accepts	Endorses	Further Recalling
Affirming	Expresses	Guided by
Alarmed by	Further	Noting with Satisfaction
Appeals	Gravely Concerned	Noting with Zest
Approving	Having Adopted	Observing
Authorizing	Having Considered	Offers
Aware of	Having Considered Further	Proclaims
Believing	Having Devoted Attention	Reminds
Bearing in Mind	Having Examined	Renews
Calls	Having Studied	Reaffirming
Calls Upon	Having Received	Recalling
Commends	Having Heard	Recommends
Condemns	Invites	Recognizing
Congratulates	Keeping in Mind	Referring
Confirms	Noting Further	Reiterating
Confident	Noting with Approval	Resolves
Considers	Noting with Deep Concern	Requests
Considering also	Noting with Regret	Seeking
Contemplating	Deeply Disturbed	Solemnly
Convinced	Deeply Regretting	Strongly
Decides	Desiring	Taking into Account
Declaring	Emphasizing	Taking into Consideration
Deeply Concerned	Expecting	Taking Note
Deeply Conscious	Expressing its satisfaction	Trusts
Deeply Convinced	Expressing its Wish	Transmits
Deplors	Fulfilling	Urges
Designates	Fully Aware	Viewing with Appreciation
Draws the Attention	Fully Alarmed	Welcoming
Emphasizes	Fully Believing
Encourages	Further Deploring

Examples of Diplomatic Greetings:

Distinguished Delegates of the World
Honorable SimCon

Examples of Diplomatic Closures:

Respectfully,
The International Finance Delegation

Sincerely,
The Delegates of the United States of America